

MY MUSIC – a Music Department podcast

Podcast 8 – Mrs Leanne McCabe-Arnold

4 March 2021

1. Two Princes* (Spin Doctors, 1989-)

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=wsdy_rct6uo

Spin Doctors are a New York based band, best known for their hits in the early 1990's, including Two Princes. In their heyday the band were known for their lengthy live shows, which often featured jamming (lengthy improvisation) around their songs. In 1994 Spin Doctors headlined a three-month tour, playing at Woodstock '94 and Glastonbury. With various changes of line up the band is still active today.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Spin_Doctors

<http://spindoctors.com/>

2. The Cure and the Cause* (Fish Go Deep feat. Tracey K, 1997-)

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=JbM0DtQZ9AY>

Fish Go Deep are an Irish production duo from Cork. Greg Dowling and Shane Johnson have been releasing house records since 1997 and in 2006 reached number 1 on both the UK dance and indie charts, and also reached number 23 in the singles chart with The Cure and the Cause.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Fish_Go_Deep

<http://www.fishgodeep.com/>

3. Somewhere Over the Rainbow* (performed by Israel Kamakawiwo'ole, 1959-97)

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=V1bFr2SWP1I>

Somewhere Over the Rainbow was composed by Harold Arlan and Yip Harburg for "The Wizard of Oz" in 1939. It nearly didn't make the final cut of the film. Kamakawiwo'ole was an influential Hawaiian musician and this song is his most popular cover and used for Toys "R" Us TV commercials in 1999, and many other TV shows.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Israel_Kamakawiwo'ole

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Somewhere_Over_the_Rainbow/What_a_Wonderful_World